

Name: _____

Haiku: Write Your Own!

Haiku is a type of Japanese poetry. Many haiku are about nature or the seasons. A haiku has three lines which do not rhyme. Each line of the poem has a specific number of syllables. The first line has five syllables, the second has seven, and the last line has five.

Example:

In spring flowers bloom
Like pretty ladies dancing
I want to dance, too.

Pick a month of the year and write it in the blank. In the box write words about that month. Then use some of those words to write your own haiku. Remember to count the syllables!

Month: _____

---

---

---

Haiku: Write Your Own!

Haiku is a type of Japanese poetry. Many haiku are about nature or the seasons. A haiku has three lines which do not rhyme. Each line of the poem has a specific number of syllables. The first line has five syllables, the second has seven, and the last line has five.

Example:
In spring flowers bloom
Like pretty ladies dancing
I want to dance, too.

Pick a month of the year and write it in the blank. In the box write words about that month. Then use some of those words to write your own haiku. Remember to count the syllables!

Actual answers will vary.

Month: _____

---

---

---